What inspires you and fills you with gratitude?

The Voices of Duke Health listening booth is a space for you to have a conversation with a colleague, loved one, or friend about what is meaningful in your lives, your work, and your relationships.

We'll record these conversations for the Voices of Duke Health podcast so everyone can learn and be inspired.

))) Who can participate?

All Duke Health providers, staff, students, and trainees, as well as patients and visitors — find a partner and schedule a time to have a conversation.

))) When and Where?

The listening booth will be available September 4-21 in the Duke Medicine Pavilion (and later at Duke Regional and Duke Raleigh Hospitals).
The podcast will be available this fall.
